CARSON CITY REPUBLICAN WOMEN

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Happy New Year everyone!

With a new year brings great hope and possibility and 2017 promises no less for every one of us. As we begin this year, we look forward to a new President and a Republican Congress to run our country with new and returning ideas. Ideas we know will improve our economy and overall standing in the world. We are hopeful that good paying jobs, academic achievement, and improved health care for all citizens is in our near future. We know that when government does less, people do better. When citizens have access to good paying jobs, crime rates go down and people can improve their quality of life, a reality that never occurs on government subsidies. A big part of this is taxes and we look forward to corporate taxes lowering dramatically so companies can afford to stay in our country and spend their money employing our citizens. There is promise that money will be able to be returned to this country through lowering taxes on incoming funds. This promises to make more money available for all people, small business, and start up companies. When our government does less, our economy does better and when our country's economy thrives, we all thrive.

Christine Brandon

With a promise of decreased regulation, comes an ease of doing business that our companies have not seen in some time. We do not have to compromise healthy drinking water or clean air for businesses, we can have both. When the EPA was formed by Richard Nixon, this was its duty, but regulatory burdens have become too great. Our country has sacrificed the well being of its people to meet overly strict and exacting environmental standards. Businesses that are unable to meet these standards have relocated to countries not holding them to these rules. So, we look forward to a business-friendly environment where American companies can stay in our exceptional country, can spend money on our people, and can increase the standard of living for even the least amongst us. These are just some of the many things we Republicans have worked, hoped, and prayed for over the last eight years. Now, the real work begins. Getting into office is one thing, but governing is another. If we wish to maintain our legislative seats, then we must work diligently to make changes for all Americans, to prove to voters that our ideas help them.

When I joined this club a few years ago, I never expected to be in this position. I was someone who had my own ideas, but I was not political. Nonetheless, when opportunities arose, I said yes. I said yes to things that made me uncomfortable. As a club, we do better when everyone pitches in. If you can help in small ways, please let us know. As Angela LoGiurato and I embark on our new adventure as Co-Presidents of the Carson City Republican Women's Club we ask that you too get involved in making our Club the best it can be. Please share your ideas with us and each other on how we can improve our Club. Let us know what your concerns are about state and local issues, we can have speakers come in to address them. You do not need to have been on a committee or chaired one to be involved. For many things, there is not even a weekly commitment. If you are passionate about an area, let us know, even if you can only help from time to time. We have a lot of work to do with our new leaders and we must do our part to hold them accountable, fight for all Americans, and be honest with the electorate. When everyone gets involved, we can do great things without causing stress to a few people. We believe that people can band together and do good without the government requiring it, but it is our duty to not just believe that, but to be examples of it.

I look forward to working with each of you during the next year. Together we can do great things. We can no longer be commentators, it is now our chance to do and not merely speak of. It may not be something you ever expected to do, but like me you find yourself called to participate and if that is the case, I ask you to join me in recreating the promises of this great nation. Despite the possible discomfort, if you are asked to be involved and you are able, I ask that you say yes.

Happy 2017 to you and yours.

(January 15, 1929 – April 4, 1968)

King was an American Baptist minister, activist, humanitarian, and leader in the African-American Civil Rights Movement. He is best known for his role in the advancement of civil rights using nonviolent civil disobedience based on his Christian beliefs.

He led the 1955 Montgomery Bus Boycott and helped found the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) in 1957, serving as its first president. With the SCLC, King led an unsuccessful 1962 struggle against segregation in Albany, Georgia (the Albany Movement), and helped organize the 1963 nonviolent protests in Birmingham, Alabama. King also helped to organize the 1963 March on Washington, where he delivered his famous "I Have a Dream" speech. There, he established his reputation as one of the greatest orators in American history.

On October 14, 1964, King received the Nobel Peace Prize for combating racial inequality through nonviolence. In 1965, he helped to organize the Selma to Montgomery marches, and the following year he and SCLC took the movement north to Chicago to work on segregated housing. In the final years of his life, King expanded

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

As we begin the new year, let us all be grateful for our country, our city, our families and friends and our faith. As Republicans, we can all strive to make each of the above better and stronger in 2017.

Caring For America will continue to support its' "causes": Paws Up For Veterans, CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocate), Advocates To End Domestic Violence and Awaken, Inc. Another "cause" might also be added. Fish, along with Advocates, benefits equally from your donations of "hotel size" hygiene items.

Awaken, Inc. was the recipient of $628.00 in 2016. Our money goes into their Building Fund. A "safe house" for women and young girls is in the planning stage. Thank you for your donations!

Paws Up For Veterans received $971.00 from your generous donations in 2016. You are helping Ann to help Veterans in need of a Service Dog. Thank you for your donations! And, BOW WOW!

CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocate) helps the abused or neglected children of Carson City by letting them know that they are safe and cared for. The roll-type suitcases or larger duffels or backpacks always have a fleece throw and a cuddly, stuffed animal inside. Each brings a smile when it is chosen by the recipient of your thoughtfulness. Thank you for your donations!

Advocates To End Domestic Violence provide a safe place to "begin anew" as a competent and confident person of worth. Your donations of gently used items throughout the year, are always appreciated. And, our December "tradition" of filling a client "Wish List" makes spirits bright for those women and children in transition at the Advocates shelter. Your CCRW Board, plus several other club members, filled a "wish list" of items for 47 women, children, which included three unborn babies, and one man. Thank you for your donations!

As a group of Republican women, you are responsive to the needs of your community by volunteering of your time, material donations or monetary gifting. Thank you and may each of you (women and men) have a healthy and happy 2017!

I'd like to close with this quotable from J. Robert Moskin: "There is always a time for gratitude and new beginnings."

Sandy Markoe, Past President

CCRW held their 2016 Installation/Christmas dinner on Tuesday, December 20th at the Carson Nugget Casino. Lori Piotrowski, President NvFRW, presided over the installation of new officers for 2017. We had 85 members, guests and dignitaries in attendance. The room was festively decorated with table arrangements done by Janice Baldwin. A big thank you to Marie Bensinger as well for providing the programs.

Our outgoing President Kim Fiegehen led the meeting, giving thanks and appreciation to her outgoing board and awarding Lynn Sheeketski with the President's Award.

Christine Brandon presented Carolee Berglan with the 2016 Woman of the Year award for all her continued effort and hard work that she does as Caring for America chair, serving the Senior Center, volunteering at Republican headquarters among her many contributions to the Carson City community.

As outgoing Past President, I presented Kim with her gift. She served our club these last four years with commitment, enthusiasm and integrity. She truly promoted and taught Republican values and ideals.

2016 BALLOT QUESTION 1 DECLARED UNENFORCEABLE
NRA-ILA Institute for Legislative Action
December 28, 2016

Nevada Attorney General Adam Laxalt has issued an opinion on Nevada's new "universal" background check law, saying the initiative, as written, is "unenforceable."

This is what happens when you allow uninformed, out-of-state lobbying groups that prey on people's emotions to write your laws. NRA Nevadans for Freedom has been saying all along that this poorly written initiative was drafted without any input from Nevada law enforcement. Not a single sheriff supported Bloomberg's Question One.

The director of the Nevada Department of Public Safety, James Wright, requested the formal opinion from the Attorney General on two questions:

"First, does the Background Check Act allow the Nevada "Point of Contact" program to perform background checks for private-party sales or transfers of firearms conducted by federal firearms licensees? Second, if the Department is legally authorized to perform these checks, may it charge fees for doing so?"

Laxalt, responded "no" to both questions, stating the Act was written in such a way that all private transfer background checks must be conducted by the federally administered National Instant Criminal Background Check System, or NICS, as opposed to being conducted through the Nevada "Point of Contact" system.

Nevada's "Point of Contact" system checks applicant names through both NICS as well as the state database of prohibited persons. As the Reno Gazette-Journal explains, "When someone buys a gun from a federally licensed dealer in Nevada, the dealer contacts the Nevada Central Repository. Someone there runs the name through a number of databases, including those for state mental health records and misdemeanor domestic battery convictions."

The new law was written so that dealers cannot access the state system, and must rely solely on the federal process. Initiative supporters avoided utilizing the state system because had they done so, Question One would have required the filing of a fiscal note, explaining to voters how much the new background checks would cost the state.

The FBI recently sent a letter to the Nevada Department of Public Safety saying, in short, that the FBI would not conduct background checks on private firearms transfers as called for in the new law. In the letter, the FBI noted that the State of Nevada "... cannot dictate how federal resources are applied."

Laxalt concluded his opinion by stating that because the FBI would not conduct the checks, the law is "unenforceable" and, therefore, "citizens may not be prosecuted for their inability to comply with the Act..."

There does not appear to be an easy fix to this over-reach by Question One's proponents. Under Nevada State law, laws passed by ballot initiative cannot be altered for three years.

As we review the Attorney General's opinion more closely, we will provide more insight into how law-abiding Nevadans should proceed when making a private firearms transfer under the new law.

From Carolee Berglan—CCRW 2016 Woman of the Year

I want to THANK YOU for selecting me as Woman of the Year, 2016. You ALL make it possible for me to do what I do as Caring For America Chair. Thank You. It is an honor, and very humbling, to have been selected.

Cont. from page 2 his focus to include poverty and speak against the Vietnam War, alienating many of his liberal allies with a 1967 speech titled "Beyond Vietnam".

In 1968, King was planning a national occupation of Washington, D.C., to be called the Poor People's Campaign, when he was assassinated on April 4 in Memphis, Tennessee. His death was followed by riots in many U.S. cities.

King was posthumously awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom and the Congressional Gold Medal. Martin Luther King, Jr. Day was established as a holiday in numerous cities and states beginning in 1971, and as a U.S. federal holiday in 1986. The Martin Luther King, Jr. Memorial on the National Mall in Washington, D.C., was dedicated in 2011.

Quite simply, federal laws already on the books aimed at stopping the flow of illegal immigration must be enforced. Furthermore, states must be given the resources necessary to confront the problem, which includes strengthening the border patrol.

Nevada Federation of Republican Women Northern Leadership Conference

By Christine Brandon, Co-President

WHEN: Saturday, January 28
WHERE: Governor's Mansion
TIME: 8:00AM—3:30PM
COST: FREE

A catered lunch will be provided. All members are welcome, so whether you want to know more about what is happening in the state or are an incoming officer there will be opportunities for learning and networking.

We highly encourage all incoming officers and chair persons to attend the conference:

- There will be position specific trainings;
- It is a great opportunity to get ideas on what other clubs and their officers and chairs are doing; and
- There will be information about the upcoming legislative session and how we can influence policies.

If you would like to be more informed, involved or just make some new friends, we highly recommend attending the conference. You must RSVP by emailing the NvFRW Northern Director, Diane Baranowski at ddbar7885@gmail.com. If you have any questions, you can also call Diane at 775-225-0932. We hope to see the CCRW well represented!
