PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Greetings Members & Associates,

I'm writing this just days after our annual Nevada Day Pancake breakfast. I am very pleased to report that it was a huge success again. We exceeded our $2000 goal towards our scholarship fund and filled the room several times over!

This would not be possible if not for the help from so many of you. A special thank you to Co-Chair Kim Fiegehen for picking up the food donations and to her head chef at Glen Eagles, John, for cooking and everything they did for us. Many thanks to Co-Chair Sherese Settlemeyer for her assistance; also, a big thank you to all our food donors, all of our many volunteers and to all our elected officials that helped serve breakfast.

Our Nevada State Chairman Michael McDonald flew up here this year from Las Vegas to help serve and just because we asked him. We are very fortunate to have such a supportive State Party chairman.

Finally, one more huge thank you to Kristen Dillard from the Governor's Mansion staff for so graciously helping and accommodating us this year. It was Kristen who reached out to us on candy donations for Halloween at the mansion. Due to the generosity of so many of you we had more candy to donate than I have ever seen before. They were absolutely thrilled and couldn't thank us enough. What a great

CARING FOR AMERICA

Carolee Berglan, Chair
841-1732

November 1st! Time to adjust our clocks before going to bed on November 2nd. We need to "fall back" an hour as Daylight Savings Time Ends. Remember to honor and thank Veterans for their service, especially on November 11th, Veteran's Day. Remember, too, to be thankful on Thanksgiving Day, November 28th.

Caring For America is always thankful for your caring and generosity each month. You are a blessing to many in your community!

CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocate) helps abused or neglected children who benefit greatly from your donations. They appreciate receiving roll-type suitcases, duffel bags or bigger backpacks. Fleece throws and smaller stuffed animals are also welcome. With cooler weather coming, socks and knit hats and gloves/mittens would be appreciated. Thank you for caring!

The Northern Nevada Dream Center would be grateful to receive canned goods and non-perishable food items for their food pantry. They also need clothing for men, women and children. At our October luncheon, you donated $79.00 to their cause. Also, think of donating "gently used" warm coats, mittens/gloves and warm head gear for all ages. Thank you for caring!

Advocates To End Domestic Violence are always in need of household items and paper goods. It has come to my attention that shelter mothers who have babies are in need of a "Baby Pack and Play". These fold up and are most useful when they are at the shelter. I've been told these are available at Wal-Mart. I'm going to check on the cost of such an item.

Paws Up For Veterans is a Fallon based organization that trains Service Dogs for combat veterans who live with PTSD, TBI or some mobility issues. The Veteran is paired with a Service Dog free of charge. Ann Kinney and her husband, Bob, do a great job of procuring, caring for and training the dogs. At our October luncheon, you donated $99.00 to their cause. Thank You!

"Thanks Be" goes out to: Diane Allen, Marie Bensinger, Gale Harris, Suzie Weissman and all who donated to Paws Up and The Dream Center. Bless You!

I'll close with a quotable by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale: "The more you practice the art of thankfulness, the more you have to be thankful for."

NFRW INCREASES MEMBERSHIP DUES

As required by the NFRW, all NvFRW clubs send a portion (currently $15) of our membership dues to our State Treasurer. For many years the following rates have been in effect - $5 per member per year stays with the NvFRW and $10 per member per year is sent to the NFRW; however, due to recent actions by NFRW, the portion of our dues sent to NFRW will now be $20 per member per year. The portion the NvFRW keeps will remain at $5, meaning $25 of our current $30 membership dues goes to NvFRW and NFRW.

According to current NvFRW President Diane Baranowski, this discussion of an increase of dues to NFRW was begun at the NvFRW April 2019 BOD meeting. Over the next few months the NvFRW asked for and gathered opinions from members and club Presidents who either agreed with the proposed dues increase or disagreed. President Diane Baranowski took both arguments back to the recent NFRW biennial convention and shared them with NFRW BOD members. There was lengthy open discussion on the floor of the meeting and some of our NvFRW members brought pros and cons to their attention. There then was a vote and the dues increase passed.

This issue will be discussed at the CCRW BOD meeting November 5, 2019. Dues will remain at $30 through December 31, 2019. Be smart—pay now!!

MEMBER INTERVIEW

Kim Angelo

I am currently the assistant treasurer for the Carson City Republican Women's Club. I joined this last November after Janice Baldwin sent me an invitation for membership in the mail.

I am a native Nevadan. I have lived in Carson City since I was five years old. I have five generations of my family living in Carson City today. My grandmother just turned 100 years old. She was born in McGill Nevada, a small mining town. My parents, two daughters and spouses and four grandchildren all live in Carson City. I guess you could say I have roots here.

My husband and I are in the real estate business. We brought the first RE/Max franchise to Carson City in 1992. Being a business owner and self-employed goes along with the ideals of the Republican party.

My first opportunity to vote for a president was in 1980. I saw first hand how our lives and country improved with the election of Ronald Reagan. This is an exciting time to be a Republican and to be involved in making our country great again for the next generations.

BEING THE SON OF A RICH AND FAMOUS REPUBLICAN ERIC TRUMP

I am keenly aware of how fortunate I was to be born the son of one of the wealthiest and most well-known businessmen in America. I am also the first to admit that things are different when you grow up as a Trump.

Anyone who has paid attention to the news, especially since my father announced his run for the White House, knows the media has attacked every member of my family viciously and given us anything but kind treatment. The adult "children" in our family are certainly not off limits. We did after all fight alongside our father in his quest to win the presidency. We stood on that stage and campaigned across the nation, and are certainly willing to take the punches where they are warranted and deserved. The double standard, however, is nothing short of glaring.

It would be a waste of print to recount every smear, hit piece, and invasion of privacy my family has faced. But allow me to sum it up by highlighting an article published by Forbes and reposted in virtually every major news outlet, attacking a charity that I started when I was 20 years old. In less than 10 years, I raised more than $20 million for terminally ill children at Saint Jude Children's Research Hospital. I maintained just over a 9 percent cumulative expense ratio, one of the lowest expense ratios of any charity in the nation, and funded the construction of one of the most cutting-edge intensive care units and surgery centers dedicated to children.

The Eric Trump Foundation intensive care unit treats some of the sickest children in the world, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, and it gives their parents and families hope. Yet I was viciously chastised by the Democrats and the media who relentlessly tried to manufacture stories about me, my mission, and my intentions with the charity. At the same time, the Clinton Foundation controversy was in full swing, and the media knew that it could use me as their punching bag to distract from one of their own.

One might say it comes with the territory, and that is absolutely true. As a Trump, I am held to an incredibly high public standard and I have lived an exceptionally clean and honest life with that in mind. But can you imagine, if they were willing to try and destroy a "kid" who dedicated his life to pediatric cancer and philanthropy, what the media would say if I had secured a $50,000 a month job on the board of a Ukrainian company, with no discernible duties, in an industry I knew nothing about, in a country where I did not even speak the language? What if my father on live camera threatened to cut off military aid to that country unless the prosecutor investigating that company for corruption was fired?

To make the hypothetical picture sufficiently vivid, also imagine that I had previously been kicked out of the United States Navy Reserve after testing positive for cocaine or was given a contract potentially worth $1.5 billion by China weeks after traveling to Beijing with my father aboard Air Force Two. I worked hard to raise millions of dollars for dying children, yet crickets from the media and weekly parodies on Saturday Night Live.

For the record, I do not know exactly what Hunter Biden did or did not do in Ukraine, in China, in his personal life, or elsewhere. There are plenty of other controversies that measure below the dignity and character of this article to regurgitate. I do like to give people the benefit of the doubt, since that courtesy is so seldom bestowed upon me and my family.

One thing, however, is absolutely certain. If the situation were reversed, I would have been front page news in every newspaper, online publication, and cable news outlet for the rest of my life. Reporters would be camping outside of my door, my family would have been picked apart, my name would have been smeared in the news every single week, and my father arguably would not even be president of the United States today.

I do not always agree with Bill Maher, but the late-night host was honest enough to admit that if my brother or I had done what Hunter Biden did, "it would be all Rachel Maddow was talking about." I do not know what he learned while growing up as a Biden, but if what we know about his life indicates anything, it is that there are different rules if you are the son of a powerful Democratic politician. Money grows on trees, there are no rules, and the press will always cover for you if it benefits the political left.

To quote the great Marcus Aurelius from The Gladiator, "Your faults as a son are my failures as a father." I owe all of my work ethic, character, integrity, and moral fiber to my father. Hunter Biden can say the same.
